Message From the Postmaster General

Policy Statement on Safety

Published Since March 4, 1880

The Postal Service safety philosophy is built on the belief that any injury can be prevented and that each of us has the responsibility for making the Postal Service a safe place to work. With that philosophy, we have made impressive strides in recent years, reducing our accident rate 32 percent and our lost workday injury rate 62 percent since 1979. We now compare quite favorably with the private sector, as far as disabling injuries are concerned.

Despite this record of improvement, too many accidents still occur. We continue to pay a high price for injuries in terms of pain and suffering of our employees. There are, of course, financial costs as well: vehicle repair, tort claims, damaged mail, lost productivity and, most significant, the compensation we pay for employees with job-related disabilities. In 1988, postal workers' compensation costs alone were 260 million dollars, an increase of over 11 percent from last year. Our future liability just for employees injured since 1979 is well over 3 billion dollars. Clearly, these costs substantially affect the financial condition of the Postal Service.

We must work as a team this year to reduce the number of accidents and injuries and to control the related personal and financial costs. I believe we can be successful and urge you all to join me to make working safely the standard in the Postal Service.

anthony m. Trenk

Anthony M. Frank, Postmaster General.

We have mailbags, many, 'tis true: But to get their full use depends solely on you.

Unendorsed Undeliverable Mail

Post offices continue to return third-class matter (such as merchandise samples) improperly, even though the sender does not endorse the items to request such service.

DOMESTIC MAIL MANUAL Exhibits 159.151c and 159.151d specifically state that for pieces of undeliverable third-class bulk business mail that bear no endorsements, no forwarding or return service is provided.

Supervisors and managers in delivery and computerized forwarding system/central markup units must monitor third-class bulk business mail to provide forwarding and return services only when requested by senders.

25-Cent Arturo Toscanini Commemorative Stamp

The 25-cent Arturo Toscanini commemorative stamp goes on sale March 25 in New York City. Regional accountable paper depositories (RAPDs) will receive limited quantities of this stamp for filling supplemental orders. Stamp distribution offices (SDOs) requiring additional stamps should order them from the RAPDs using separate Forms 17-A, Accountable Items Requisition From Stamp Distribution Office. All other post offices requiring additional stamps should immediately requisition them from their SDOs on separate Forms 17-A.

Uniform Items: Promotional Purposes

The following policy governs the use of wearing apparel for promotional purposes within the U.S. Postal Service, effective immediately. The Assistant Postmaster General, Labor Relations Department, may grant exceptions to the policy.

Source. All apparel items purchased with Postal Service funds for the purpose of promoting a product (e.g., Express Mail) or a program (e.g., safety) must be American made.

Payment. Payment for promotional items will not be made from the Uniform Allowance Program.

Uniformed Employees. Only caps may be used as promotional items for uniformed employees, and they may be used only to promote U.S. Postal Service products or services. Designs must be consistent with the overall appearance of the uniform and must not contain extraneous decoration (e.g., gold leaf on the bill, commonly referred to as "scrambled eggs"). The Assistant Postmaster General, Marketing Department, must approve the designs.

The use of pins and other insignia (unless authorized by ELM 583.32) must be controlled and should not be required for uniformed employees.

Nonuniformed Employees. Items purchased for wear by nonuniformed employees may be of any design considered appropriate by the manager/postmaster, field division.

Contract Uniform/Work Clothes Program. The policy for uniformed employees applies.

A future revision of the ELM will include this policy.—Labor Relations Dept., 2-16-89.

Form 4052, Notice to Customer of Correct Address

Form 4052, Notice to Customer of Correct Address, currently explains a Postal Service change in the customer's mailing address. It states, in part, that "your carrier will give you Notice 8-A, Change of Address Kit . . .", to notify correspondents. This sentence is now in error because these kits are no longer available.

When customers request Notice 8-A, Change of Address Kit, they should instead receive several Forms 3576, Change-of-Address Request for Correspondents, Publishers, and Businesses, which serves the primary objective of allowing them to notify their correspondents. Notice 8-A is revised and these kits are only available through Computerized Forwarding System/Central Markup Unit offices when a customer files Form 3575, Change-of-Address Order.

Form 4052 will be corrected (to refer to Forms 3576) and reprinted when existing stocks are depleted. Until that time, explain to customers that they should use Form 3576 to notify correspondents and publishers of their new address.

Wetlands Postal Card

The Postal Service will issue a 15-cent Wetlands postal card on March 17 in Okefenokee, Georgia. The new postal card, third in the America the Beautiful Series, pays tribute to America's soggybut-splendid, fertile-but-fragile wildlife and plant habitat. Hans Neuhauser of the Georgia Conservancy and Pogo Possum, popular cartoon conservationist, will join Regional Postmaster General William A. Cambell, Jr., in the dedication ceremony at Okefenokee Swamp Park.

The postal card, by veteran designer Bart Forbes, features a Great Blue Heron leaving its rock to search for another dry perch.

Georgia's legendary Okefenokee swamp is one of the largest and most primitive wetlands in America. In reality a watershed, it covers more than 600 square miles and serves as the headwaters for the Suwannee and St. Mary's Rivers. Set aside in 1937 as a national wildlife refuge by President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Okefenokee features more than 200 species of birds, 50 species of reptiles, 40 species of mammals, and 32 species of amphibians. The American alligator, the Florida panther, and the bald eagle are just some of the endangered species that live in or visit what has been called America's greatest natural botanical garden.

Procedures for ordering first-day cancellations follow.

Arturo Toscanini Commemorative Stamp

A Performing Arts Series commemorative stamp honoring Arturo Toscanini will be issued March 25 in New York City. The dedication ceremony will be held at Carnegie Hall, the world-famous facility that was home to Toscanini's New York Philharmonic and the NBC Symphony. James D. Wolfensohn, chairman of the board for Carnegie Hall, and renowned singer Robert Merrill will join Associate Postmaster General Kenneth J. Hunter in dedicating the new stamp.

Many consider Toscanini the greatest conductor of all time. He was exacting, putting himself and his artists through arduous rehearsals in search of musical precision and the composer's message. His demands for clarity, expression, and honesty chased away artistic indifference and raised orchestral standards. "This is great music," he said. "I must give it my greatest effort. I cannot hold back."

Procedures for ordering first day cancellations follow.

Customers Affixing Stamps. The Postal Service encourages customers to purchase Arturo Toscanini stamps and affix them to their envelopes. Covers bearing stamps will receive preferential service. Customers must address envelopes on the right side at least % inch from the bottom and affix stamps approximately ¼ inch from the top and right edges. Requests must be postmarked by April 24 and addressed: Customer-Affixed Envelopes, Arturo Toscanini Stamps, Postmaster, New York, NY 10199-9991. No remittance is required.

Postal Service Affixing Stamps. The price is 25 cents per stamp. The Postal Service accepts checks in the exact amount up to the limit of 50 envelopes.
