$32.25 International Express Mail Booklet

Supplies of the $32.25 International Express Mail booklet will be available June 19, 1989. This booklet contains three $10.75 Special Issue stamps originally issued April 29, 1989. The booklet cover was redesigned for the stamp to be reissued to meet the international rate. Offices may sell single stamps from the booklet to accommodate customers (see section 142.11, DOMESTIC MAIL MANUAL). There will be no first day of issuance ceremony.

Copyright U.S. Postal Service 1985

Post offices with inventories of the 1985 $10.75 Special Issue booklet stamps may place them back on sale. Since the 1985 booklet cover version refers to the obsolete domestic rate, offices must sell the 1985 stamp version without the booklet cover.

Post offices will not receive an automatic distribution. Post offices with authorized philatelic centers should order sufficient quantities of the revised booklet to meet anticipated local philatelic demand.

CAG A-G post offices requiring 1,500 or more booklets should immediately submit Form 3356, Stamp Requisition—Bulk Quantities, to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, using Item 6602. Offices must submit requisitions in the standard ordering quantities for booklets to the maximum of 45,000.

All other post offices requiring fewer than 1,500 booklets should immediately requisition the booklets from their designated stamp distribution office on a separate Form 17-A, Accountable Items Requisition From Stamp Distribution Office.

DMM Notice

U.S. POSTAL SERVICE Mailability Restrictions

Effective with DOMESTIC MAIL MANUAL (DMM) Issue 32 (9-17-89), section 125, Mail Addressed From, To, or Between Military Post Offices Overseas, and 126 Mail Sent via Department of State to U.S. Government Personnel Abroad, are amended to be in concert with current mailability regulations.

—Rates and Classification Dept., 6-15-89.

All Managers, Safety and Health Services

Unoccupied Buildings

EMPLOYEE AND LABOR RELATIONS MANUAL 825 and 852 refer, respectively, to safety and health inspections and quarterly fire inspections for postal-owned and -leased facilities. Although it is generally understood that these inspections apply to occupied facilities, it does not eliminate the need to conduct inspections in any unoccupied facility.

Within the Postal Service, there are other facilities such as warehouses or storage facilities that are also subject to annual safety and health inspections and quarterly fire safety inspections. Therefore, Managers, Safety and Health Services, must include all unoccupied postal-owned or -leased facilities in the annual and quarterly inspection requirement, as needed. These facilities must be inspected in accordance with applicable codes, standards, and postal regulations.

Rural Routes—EMA Schedules

In accordance with the provisions of Article 9, Section 2.1.3 of the Rural Carrier National Agreement, the rural carrier equipment maintenance allowance (EMA) will be increased, effective June 3, 1989 (Pay Period 13-89), from 30.5 cents per mile to 31.0 cents per mile. The EMA is now 31 cents per mile or a minimum of $12.40 per day, whichever is greater.

Employees providing auxiliary assistance or serving on auxiliary routes (auxiliary rural carriers, rural carrier reliefs, rural carrier associates, and auxiliary assistants under provisions of Article 9, Section 2.1.5) will receive an EMA of 31 cents per mile or $3.70 per hour, whichever is greater, not to exceed the amount provided in the Special Equipment Maintenance Schedule for the route stops and miles.

The EMA schedules on page 19 supersede all previously published EMA schedules. The Optional Equipment Maintenance Allowance (OEMA) rate of .412 cents per mile remains the same.

New Florida ZIP Codes: Bulk Mailings

POSTAL BULLETIN 21723, 5-4-89 (pages 5-7), contained a notice about ZIP Code changes in Florida that will be effective on July 1, 1989. Two new three-digit ZIP Code prefixes will also be implemented: 321 for the Jacksonville Division and 347 for the Orlando area of the Tampa Division. In addition, three-digit prefixes 320 and 326 in the Jacksonville Division, 327 and 329 in the Orlando area, and 335 and 342 in the Tampa Division will cover different areas.

Mailers should convert their lists as soon as possible to ensure the best possible delivery for mailings entered after July 1, 1989. Generally, mailers must convert by October 1, 1989. However, because some mailings may have been in process when the May notice appeared, mailers may request an extension of the October deadline on a case-by-case basis.

Mailers must request an extension by letter to the entry post office. The letter must:

1. Arrive at least 10 days before entry of the mail.
2. Identify the particular mailing involved and the expected entry date.
3. Briefly explain the circumstances that make the extension request necessary.

The Postal Service will consider requests for extensions until January 1, 1990.

Once the Postal Service accepts a mailing, it will attempt to deliver regardless of whether the mailing contains the old or new ZIP Codes.

Note for Acceptance Personnel: This notice does not alter current bulk mail acceptance and verification procedures.—Rates and Classification Dept., 6-15-89.

Series EE Savings Bonds

Employees may purchase Series EE Savings Bonds in denominations of $100, $200, $500, and $1,000 through payroll allotments. The purchase price is 50 percent of the face value. For example, a $100 bond costs $50; a $200 bond is $100; a $500 bond costs $250; and a $1,000 bond costs $500.

The minimum acceptable allotment for purchasing any bond is $2.50 a pay period. Employees may authorize higher amounts in multiples of $1.25.

The table below illustrates the bond denominations available and the allotments required to complete the purchase price. Employees should consult the 1989 employee brochure for maturity periods and the major advantages of these bonds.

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS HANDLING AWARENESS

The Postal Service accepts limited quantities of hazardous materials that, because of their preparation for mailing, are not outwardly dangerous or injurious to life, health, or property. However, materials are, on occasion, inadvertently or intentionally mailed that may present a hazard to postal employees. By increasing employee awareness about the proper handling of hazardous materials, any risk presented by these items in the mails can be significantly minimized.

Management Instruction EL-810-88-3, Hazardous Materials Spill or Leak Standard Operating Procedures, specifically requires that employees receive periodic awareness training, using Handbook EL-812, Hazardous Materials, and Postal Employee Development Training Program No. 21511, modules 1-7. The modules, titled Hazardous Materials Slide/Tape Training Program, have recently been revised, and a new module, Hazardous Materials Spill and Leak Cleanup, added. They will be available in Postal Employee Development Centers shortly.

During safety talks, managers may also emphasize proper acceptance and handling. While acceptance clerks must follow inquiry procedures published in POSTAL BULLETIN 21665, 3-31-88, they should ensure, within these procedures, that they accept only mailable items, and that the materials are properly packaged and marked.

Employees should have Notice 107, Hazardous

Materials, available to give to customers. They should also have Publication 52, Acceptance of Hazardous, Restricted, or Perishable Matter, as a ready reference.

Employees who may handle hazardous materials should be reminded to follow proper handling procedures as outlined in EL-812, Chapter 7. They should also be aware of the potential presence of hazardous materials in the mails, so that they handle them properly. Some indicators are:

- A shifting weight or liquid sound in a parcel.
- A Department of Transportation diamond-shaped label or placard. Materials that require such a label are not mailable, though some mailable items may have a label affixed.
- A parcel with a label to or from a chemical firm or some sort of laboratory.
- A parcel or Express Mail shipment with a stain or unusual odor (some illegal drugs mailed recently have had ether as a component).

Employees should handle properly packaged hazardous materials according to EL-812, but also move them through the mails expeditiously. An employee who discovers a suspected nonmailable or leaking parcel should contact his or her supervisor and/or follow the facilities spill and leak plan. Also see Handbook EL-812, pages 12 and 13 for emergency procedures.

NDCBU LOCKS AND KEYS

The Postal Service is responsible for providing every customer a compartment lock and three keys to his or her Neighborhood Delivery and Collection Box Unit (NDCBU). No key deposits are required. Advise customers that they may duplicate their keys at no expense to the Postal Service.

Postal managers must take the following actions in issuing and controlling NDCBU locks and keys:

1. Give all compartment keys to customers with a notice stating that the Postal Service keeps no duplicate keys and if they lose all the keys, the Postal Service will have to install a new lock at the customer's expense.

2. If customers lose their keys, arrange for the repairs and charge the customer accordingly. (There is no established fee; this charge is based on local costs.)

3. Request customers to return all compartment keys to the post office when they move from their residence. When a customer moves, the office should change the lock before reissuing the compartment. The new customer is not charged for the first lock and keys even though the Postal Service replaced it.

4. When all compartments are not assigned, locks for the unassigned compartments may be used as replacements. Remove a lock on an unassigned compartment and switch it with the lock that requires changing. To keep the doors secure, always reinstall a lock (in the locked position) in all unassigned compartments.

5. When new centralized delivery equipment is installed, the keys may either be taped to the inside of the receptacle until the compartment is issued, or stored at the post office. A suggested method of storage is to use P-570 envelopes labeled with address, compartment number, NDCBU location, and NDCBU identifying number.

FEGLI Coverage: Post-Retirement Premiums

Effective January 1, 1990, a provision in the Federal Employees Group Life Insurance (FEGLI) law will require employees who retire after December 31, 1989, to pay for their basic insurance during retirement. This provision will apply to employees who retire before age 65 and who elect to retain their basic life insurance coverage after retirement. Under current provisions, employees who choose the 75 percent reduction option may continue this coverage into retirement without cost.

The monthly premium for the supplemental contribution that takes effect January 1, 1990, will be $.401 for each $1,000 of basic life insurance. This premium withholding is in addition to the premium required if employees elect either the 50-percent or no reduction post-retirement coverage. Premium payments for the supplemental contribution will be withheld from annuities of retirees from the date of retirement until they reach age 65. Premiums for the 50-percent and no reduction elections continue for life or until the insurance is canceled or discontinued.

The monthly premiums for $1,000 of coverage for each level of post-retirement FEGLI coverage follow:

Level of coverage	Regular premium plus supplemental premium before age 65	Regular premium after age 65
75 percent reduction	$0.401	$0.00
50 percent reduction	0.921	0.52
No reduction.....	2.091	1.69

Free basic insurance coverage will continue for employees who separate for retirement before January 1, 1990, or whose annuities begin before January 1, 1990. For this particular provision, employees who retire on or before December 31, 1989, will be eligible to elect the 75-percent reduction option without cost. Those employees who separate after December 31, 1989, but whose annuities begin before January 1, 1990, are also eligible for this free coverage.

Retirement counselors should advise retirement applicants of this change. Offices should post the notice on page 9 on all employee bulletin boards.

25-Cent Security Stamped Envelope

A 25-cent Security stamped envelope goes on sale July 10 in Washington, DC. This envelope is a modified version of the 25-cent Stars embossed envelope issued March 26, 1988. There is no embossing and the indicia is a perfect circle, rather than a square with rounded corners. It is available in size 9 only, with the inside printed in light blue. The inside tint provides security against inspection of the contents.

Do Not Place on Sale Before July 11, 1989

A future issue of the POSTAL BULLETIN will include a photograph of the envelope and a stamp poster announcement.

Supply. Post offices with authorized philatelic centers will receive an automatic distribution of this envelope. Quantities will be based on the automatic distribution for a size 10 envelope. Those post offices should requisition additional quantities for their regular window transactions. CAG A-G post offices requiring bulk quantities of this envelope must immediately submit Form 3205, Requisition for Plain Stamped Envelopes, to the Stamped Envelope Agency, Williamsburg, PA 16693-0500. Submit requisitions in the standard ordering quantities for a size 10, regular envelope. Refer to the price list chart on page 16 for the item number.

All other post offices requiring less than bulk quantities must immediately requisition this envelope on a separate Form 17-A, Accountable Items Requisition From Stamp Distribution Office, from their designated stamp distribution office.

Printed Stamped Envelopes. This envelope is also available with a printed return address for customers. Customers should indicate the item number, size, denomination, and price on the blank lines of the present Form 3203, Printed Stamped Envelopes Order, when placing orders. Customers should mail the form, with the proper remittance, in a preprinted business reply envelope furnished by the Postal Service or in a plain envelope addressed to the Stamped Envelope Agency, Williamsburg, PA 16693-0500. They must pay by check or money order. Refer to the price list on page 18 for item numbers.

Second-Class Publications: Label Carriers

Effective with DOMESTIC MAIL MANUAL (DMM) Issue 32, 9-17-89, section 429.31g(2) is revised to clarify what may be placed on the front of a label carrier for a second-class publication when it is completely enclosed in a plastic wrapper (polybag).

Specifically, the section will be revised to state that a label carrier may bear a subscription order form in addition to subscription renewal information and requests for address correction information from the addressee. In addition, language will be added to state that mailers may place a permit imprint used to pay third-class or First-Class postage on an enclosure on the label carrier below the second-class imprint or the second-class endorsement.—Rates and Classification Dept., 6-15-89.

Boxholder Information Requests

ADMINISTRATIVE SUPPORT MANUAL (ASM) 352.44f(2) defines the written information that a person empowered by law to serve legal process, the attorney for a party on whose behalf service will be made, or a party who is acting pro se, i.e., self-represented, must submit when requesting the names or addresses of postal customers.

Post offices must enforce these regulations but must not impose any requirements not specifically prescribed in ASM 352.44f(2). Some offices have been going beyond the official requirements, e.g., requiring the requester to provide a copy of court documents or to furnish the docket or other identifying number when no such number has been issued.

When a requester is not sure in which court a case will be commenced, the requester should be asked to explain the reason for the uncertainty. The explanation may be taken as responsive to 352.44f(2)(d).

Post offices with doubts about the adequacy of the information that requesters submit under 352.44f(2) should consult with their Field Councils, General Law, before rejecting the request.

Reminder: Post offices should furnish information under ASM 352.44f(2) without charge.

1-Cent Penalty Mail Stamp

The Postal Service will issue a 1-cent Penalty Mail stamp on July 5 in Washington, DC. There is no first day of issuance ceremony, but the Postal Service is offering a first-day cancellation.

Penalty Mail stamps, restricted to official government use, help the Postal Service and federal agencies keep track of postage expenses. Unauthorized use carries a fine of $300, hence the stamp's penalty designation.

Designed by Bradbury Thompson, the new issue resembles earlier official stamps by featuring a portion of the Great Seal of the United States in white on a postal blue background. The stamp carries no plate number and appears only in a sheet of 100 stamps.

Instructions for purchasing the stamps in mint condition follow.

Post offices will not sell the Penalty Mail stamp. It is only available by mail order from the Philatelic Sales Division or on a handback basis at their philatelic centers in Washington, DC. Orders should be addressed: One-Cent Penalty Mail Stamp, Philatelic Sales Division, Washington, DC 20260-9997. The item number is 5550. The minimum order is $10, and the Postal Service charges 50 cents to handle each mail order.

Procedures for ordering first-day cancellations follow.

Because post offices do not sell Penalty Mail stamps, customers cannot affix their own stamps to receive cancellations. Envelopes, post, or postal cards submitted with cancellation orders must bear the following return address: U.S. Postal Service, Washington, DC 20066, Official Business, in three lines in the upper left corner. Customers may print, type, or rubberstamp the return address or use a gummed address label. However, they may not write the return address in longhand. In addition, customers must address all envelopes, post, or postal cards in the lower right corner as usual.

To meet the First-Class rate, covers may include 24-cents in uncanceled postage issued before July 5. For covers submitted without stamps, the Postal Service will combine one 20-cent and one 4-cent Penalty Mail stamp with the 1-cent Penalty Mail stamp being issued. The price is 25 cents per cover. The Postal Service accepts personal checks in the exact amount up to the limit of 50 covers. Customers should not send cash or postage stamps. Orders must be postmarked by August 4 and addressed: 1-Cent Penalty Mail Stamp, Postmaster, Washington, DC 20066-9992.

A Philatelic Catalog, listing all available stamps and other philatelic items, is available here or from the Philatelic Sales Division, Washington, DC 20265-9997.

NOTICE TO ALL EMPLOYEES ELIGIBLE TO RETIRE

A provision in the Federal Employees Group Life (FEGLI) law will take effect on January 1, 1990, that will affect employees who retire after December 31, 1989. Employees under age 65 who retire on or after January 1, 1990, must pay a premium for basic life insurance coverage retained after retirement. Under current provisions, this coverage is free.

The premium cost for the basic coverage that takes effect January 1, 1990, will be $.401 monthly per $1,000 of basic coverage. This premium withholding will be in addition to the premium required for the 50-percent or no reduction post-retirement coverage.

Free basic life insurance coverage will continue for eligible employees who retire before January 1, 1990. To meet the free coverage provision, the separation or the commencing date of the annuity must be effective before January 1, 1990.

Employees currently planning to retire who require information concerning this change should contact their personnel office.

INTERNATIONAL TRANSIT TIME STUDY

The Declaration of Hamburg, adopted by the Hamburg Congress of the Universal Postal Union (UPU), includes a United States-sponsored resolution intended to improve mail service between members of the UPU. This resolution has led to a series of periodic international mail transit time surveys among selected countries. The United States, Canada, Ireland, and Australia will conduct one of these surveys from June 19 through July 1, 1989.

Each day of the survey, the opening unit at the air mail facility (AMF) at AMF Kennedy International Airport and AMF San Francisco will randomly select eight pieces of air LC (letters), eight pieces of AO (flats), and eight pieces of CP (parcels) from these offices. The unit will complete the exchange office portion of a transit time card (see Exhibit 1) and attach it to each piece of mail, mark the front of each piece with a large X, and return all pieces to the mail stream.

When a delivery unit receives one of these mail-pieces, it must:

1. Remove the Transit Time Card and complete two blocks in the delivery portion: Date of arrival of the item and date of presentation for delivery or advice to the addressee for collection (see Exhibit 1). Do not complete date of arrival of the dispatch note (CP-2).

2. Mail the card, which is preaddressed to the UPU. It requires no postage because it is official USPS mail (see Exhibit 2).

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES: MAILING ACCOUNTABILITY

The government agencies that follow are not authorized to mail under the standard format of the penalty indicia (the eagle indicia). These agencies must use penalty postage meters, penalty mail stamps, or other direct accountability methods of the penalty mail program.

All standard penalty indicia (eagle) mail from these agencies received at either the office of mailing or office of address must be treated as unpaid mail and returned for postage in accordance with DOMESTIC MAIL Manual (DMM) 146.2. This list reflects several changes not currently included in the agency listing in DMM 137.252. Section 137.252 will be updated in the September 1989 edition.
