More 49-Star Flag Stamps To Be Available

Due to widespread popular interest in the new 4-cent commemorative 49-Star Flag stamp to be placed on first-day sale on July 4, 1959, in Auburn, N.Y., and on July 6, 1959, in all post offices, the Department will immediately print an additional 80 million of these stamps. This new quantity, combined with the initial print order for 120 million stamps announced on May 23, 1959, should meet the demands of the American public.

Initial requisitions for these stamps, which in some cases were reduced by the Department, will be completed as rapidly as possible.—Office of the Special Assistant to the Postmaster General, 7-2-59.

Emergency Change of Address and Safety Notification Cards

1. The Post Office Department, in cooperation with the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, has designed the following-described official cards for use in the event of a Civil Defense Emergency proclaimed by the President or the Congress. These cards may not be used for any other type of emergency.

a. Emergency Change of Address Card—POD Form 809.—This card is intended for use by persons who are displaced or relocated because of emergency conditions relating to an attack on the United States, or evacuation necessitated thereby. Its primary purpose is to serve as a postal locator card for use in giving directory service to undeliverable letter mail addressed to disaster areas. These cards would be filed in the appropriate Central Postal Directory established for the affected area. It should be noted that this card is not intended as a replacement for POD Form 3575 for NORMAL changes of address, which would continue to be filed at local post offices.

b. Safety Notification Card—POD Form 810.—This postal card is intended for use by evacuees and survivors in and from disaster areas to let family, friends, employers and others know of the safety and location of the sender and persons indicated by him on that card. This card bears an essential relationship to the Emergency Change of Address card as its widespread utilization by displaced persons would materially reduce demands on postal directory service, as well as the volume of welfare inquiries received at Civil Defense Registration and Information (R&I) Offices.

2. Objectives. These cards are intended for integration in the Civil Defense Registration and Information Program on a postage-free basis. While State and local governments have primary responsibility for this program, the Post Office Department will provide support and assistance therein to the fullest extent possible because of its importance to public morale in a Civil Defense Emergency. The use of these cards will enable the following supporting action:

a. Delivery of mail to populations dispersed as a result of evacuation or attack.

b. Availability of information to State and local R&I Offices concerning location of displaced persons, evacuees, and survivors.

c. Reuniting of families through the establishment of mail communication between separated members.

3. Distribution of Cards. To assure implementation of this program in a Civil Defense Emergency, one carton of each of these cards (Forms 809 and 810) will be shipped to every post office for standby storage. Also, with respect to postmasters having classified stations and branches, sufficient quantities of both forms will be shipped in bulk to provide for forwarding by the postmaster of one carton of each form to each of his classified stations and branches for standby storage. These cards will be distributed from the Area Supply Centers beginning July 1, with distribution completed about October 1. The cards will be shipped in separate cartons and if postmasters fail to receive delivery of either or both of these cards by October 15, 1959, they should requisition from their design-

a. By arrangement with the Post Office Department, the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization will make token distribution of the residue supply (roughly about a million of each card) to State and local Civil Defense authorities for training purposes.

4. Emergency Supply. It is recognized that the nominal supply of these cards, i.e., 2,000 Forms 809 and 3,000 Forms 810, to be placed in standby storage at every post office and every classified station and branch will not provide an adequate emergency stockpile for metropolitan areas. However, the indicated wide dispersion at more than 39,000 storage points will provide the capability for post-attack massing of the cards at needed points. Moreover, local printing or reproduction of these cards in a Civil Defense Emergency is authorized, which should make it possible to meet area demands where emergency printing is feasible.

5. Storage of Cards. Details concerning the role of the Postal Service in the Civil Defense Registration and Information Program will be contained in a publication to be issued jointly by the Post Office Department and the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization at a later date. At this time, the only action desired of postmasters and station and branch superintendents by this notice is the safe and "ready" storage of the two cartons of cards, which should be held intact as they will be plainly labeled to indicate their contents. Exhibits of these cards are portrayed for the information of all concerned.

Civil Service Commission Emergency Registration Card

1. CSC Form 600. The emergency cards—POD Forms 809 and 810—described in the preceding article should not be confused with the Civil Service Commission Emergency Registration Card—CSC Form 600—which is intended only for registration of Federal employees in a Civil Defense Emergency.

2. CSC Emergency Registration System. The Civil Service Commission will administer a nationwide registration plan for Federal employees in the event of an attack on the United States. It provides for the post-attack registration of employees, who, because of the emergency conditions, would be prevented from reporting to their regular places of work or to their preassigned emergency duty stations. The primary purpose of this registration system is to get Federal employees back to work in their own agencies or in other agencies where their skills can be best utilized. It also will enable the Federal agencies to keep employees on their active roster and provide an address for forwarding of their pay.

3. Standby Storage of CSC Cards. In developing this plan, the Civil Service Commission in 1957 mailed a small supply of their emergency registration card, CSC Form 600, to every first-, second-, and third-class post office in the continental United States, for standby storage. Postmasters should arrange for the storage of the package of CSC Forms 600 with the cartons of POD Forms 809 and 810, to assure that all three types of emergency cards will be readily available if and when needed.

4. CSC Emergency Registration Procedure. CSC Forms 600 are to be distributed to Federal employees upon request when post-attack conditions make their registration necessary. Completed cards deposited in the mail shall be forwarded to the post office named on the face of the card, or to the Postal Concentration Center receiving mail for that post office. Postmasters in cities where regional offices of the Civil Service Commission are located should ascertain from the Commission's regional director the location from which he would operate in an emergency. These postmasters should then include in their own emergency plans provision for the forwarding of completed CSC Forms 600 to the applicable location of the CSC Regional Office.

5. Emergency Supply Requirements. In the event that the supply of CSC cards stored at a post office should become exhausted during an emergency, postmasters should see that the lack of printed CSC cards does not prevent the registration of Federal employees who have been displaced from work. If necessary, postmasters should (a) borrow cards from a neighboring post office; (b) reproduce an additional supply locally by mimeograph or other available means; or (c) suggest the use of an ordinary postal card on which the employee should enter the same information requested on the printed CSC registration card. See exhibit of the back of CSC Form 600 shown on the preceding page.

Postmasters should cut out the foregoing articles and file them with their emergency plans.—Bureau of the Chief Postal Inspector, 7-2-59.

All Postal Employees

Amateur Radio Operators

Plans have been completed, with the assistance of W8QCU and KOAGJ, for the organization of a Post Office Net (PON) composed of licensed amateur operators within the postal establishment who have volunteered to participate in the program. See previous POSTAL BULLETIN notice.

The mission of the Post Office Net (PON) is to provide communications for the Department in the event of emergency or natural disaster situations.

All employees who are amateur radio operators and who have indicated their desire to participate will receive a letter outlining the plan of operation.

Employees who are amateur radio operators and who have not yet indicated their desire to participate and who wish to do so, are urged to complete the attached questionnaire.—Bureau of Facilities, 7-2-59.

All Post Offices

Privileged Matter

It has come to the attention of the Department that postmasters are receiving requests for the mailing address of postal patrons and information as to the identity and address of the patron's employer, friend, or relative.

Section 114.3, Postal Manual, enumerates those records, documents, and information which may not be disclosed by subordinate officers or employees of the Department without authorization. Postmasters must observe the provisions of this section and refuse to honor requests for privileged information.—Bureau of Operations, 7-2-59.

All Post Offices

Improper Cashing of U.S. Savings Bonds

Information has been received which indicates that some postmasters are cashing U.S. saving bonds and including these bonds with their remittances to Federal Reserve banks.

U.S. savings bonds must not be paid at any post office. (See Postal Manual 172.45) They are cashable at banks and trust companies, Federal Reserve banks, and the Treasury Department. When bonds are to be mailed to the Treasury Department or a Federal Reserve bank for payment, postmasters and other designated postal personnel may certify the request for payment as provided by 372.45, Postal Manual.—Bureau of Finance, 7-2-59.

All Offices Having Street Letter Box Equipment

Anchoring of Street Letter Boxes

Postmasters shall continue the program of anchoring street letter boxes. The deadline for completion of this project has been extended to September 30, 1959.

Insofar as possible postal employees shall be used to perform this work. Regional Operations Directors will approve purchase requests in reasonable amounts for the local procurement of the materials necessary to complete this program.

A progress report must be submitted by each postmaster involved to his Regional Operations Director not later than October 15, 1959.—Bureau of Operations, 7-2-59.

Hungary—Gift Parcels

The Hungarian authorities have given notice that the exemption from customs duty granted on used clothing and prescribed medicines in gift parcels will be terminated, effective with parcels postmarked July 16, 1959. Duty on used clothing sent to individuals will be at the rate of 60 percent, on prescribed medicines at the rate of 10 percent, and on other items at rates ranging up to 70 percent of the value as determined by the customs authorities in Hungary.

New yearly quotas have also been established for the contents of gift parcels, replacing the list appearing on pages Hungary (2) and (3) of the Directory of International Mail. If those quotas are exceeded, the Hungarian authorities may charge duty at penalty rates, return the parcels to origin, or confiscate the contents for sale in lieu of duty.

The foregoing should be brought to the attention of persons desiring to mail parcels to Hungary, and they should be advised to assure themselves in advance of mailing that the addressees will be able to take delivery.

The annual quotas prescribed for the various commodities permitted in gift parcels addressed to Hungary are shown in the following list.
